Online workshop: Using Crime Data in R – work with it, visualise, map it!

This free 3-day series provides an overview of available crime data from the UKDS, UK police API, and 'crimedata' R package, plus methods to access, analyse, and present results. The workshop includes lectures, practicals and applied research presentations and is aimed at students, researchers or anyone interested in crime data, from beginners with basic knowledge of quantitative analysis or R through to intermediate users looking for inspiration and new resources.
